OVER THE WORLD IN A WEEK.

—A cloud burst in the mountains near Sand Lake, N. Y., did thousands of dollars' damage.

—George Little, of Greensburg, Ind., was fatally beaten by an unknown man hid in Little's stable.

—At Cumberland, Md., one man was killed and another injured by the collapse of a bridge in the course of repair.

—A call for a Statehood convention, to be held at Oklahoma City, September 24, has been called by the Commercial Club of that city.

—Judge Robert D. Ray, late Chief Justice of the Supreme court of Missouri, died last week at Carrollton. He was a native of Kentucky.

—Ben Graham shot and instantly killed Alfred Higginbottom, near Senatobia, last week. The killing was the result of a quarrel over some fodder.

—At Concord, Ga., Miss Bettie Mitchell attempted suicide with morphine and razor, and may die. Love of fine dress and fear of disgrace was the cause.

—William F. Clark, a lunatic, suicided at Weston, W. Va., by getting into a bath tub and turning on the boiling water. The case will be investigated.

—Crops in North Dakota have been seriously injured by frost. It was four degrees below freezing point last week, and ice formed on the growing grain.

—Will Owens colored, who attempted an outrage on a white woman, was taken from the officers at Jesup, Ga., tied to a tree and 800 Winchester balls were shot into his body.

—At Charleston, W. Va., Nick Sprague was robbed of $350, early one evening last week, by two men, one of whom held him by the throat while the other secured the booty.

—Constable Davenport, in trying to arrest John Wood on a bench warrant, near Dug Down, Ga., was held for an hour by five women in order to give Wood time to escape.

—Mrs. Rev. Parsley, of Albion, Pa., died five minutes after acting the part of an angel in a tableau. A moment before her death a girl made the remark that she (Mrs. Parsley) would make a lovely angel.

—Postmaster General Wanamaker has requested the postmasters of county seats to visit every post office in their counties and make a detailed report thereon. Postmasters are expected to pay their own expenses in making these investigations.

—At Independence, Iowa, last week, the $5,000 race for five-year-olds was won in straight heats by the great Lexington mare, Nancy Hanks, beating Allerton and Margaret S. The time, 2:12, 2:12½ and 2:12, is the fastest of any on record for three heats of a race.

—Nine prominent citizens, disguised as "regulators," have been indicted in Murray county, Georgia, for the assassination of Hosea Jones, a farmer, who was called to his door at night and shot down, presumably because he had treated his wife and children badly.

—Robert Paxton, of Indianapolis, last July went to the home of Charles Laneman and attempted to criminally assault his ten-year-old daughter, and in the struggle the girl was severely injured. Last week he entered a plea of guilty, and was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment.

—Paul Conrad, President of the Louisiana lottery, and a number of the employees of the company were held to answer at Philadelphia for violating the anti-lottery postal law. The offense was the mailing of a circular containing the revised report of the Louisiana Supreme court on the lottery revenue case.

—A passenger train on the Western North Carolina railroad went through a bridge sixty-five feet into a creek near Statesville, N. C., Thursday of last week. Twenty or more people were instantly killed, nine seriously injured, and a number of others more or less bruised and hurt. A number of Kentuckians were on the train.

—U. H. H. Burns has entered suit against the city of Houston, Texas, for $25,000 damages, based upon the fact that he came in contact with a case of small pox and contracted the disease, from the effects of which he is nearly blind, and charges that the city is responsible in that the proper quarantine was not established.

STATE SUNSHINE AND SHADOW.

SEVERAL capitalists of Chicago have lately been investigating the Hinkson lead mines near Lair, and have considered that it is worthy of the fullest development. They have made arrangements accordingly, and a number of expert miners will begin work on the mines at once.

NEAR Nicholasville, Mrs. Jane Richardson, while crossing a bridge on the Three Forks railroad with her three children, was struck by a train and instantly killed. Two of her children were mortally injured, while the other escaped unhurt.

A SYNDICATE has purchased the interest of Col. Bennett H. Young in the Louisville Post. Its old editor, Col. C. E. Sears, now of the Big Stone Post, at Big Stone Gap, Va., will again take the helm. He is a first class newspaper man.

At Bardstown, Miss Josie Bent shot and dangerously wounded Wm. Hamilton, colored. She alleges that he had been following her, and that on one occasion, just before the shooting, he had insultingly approached her.

THE Elizabethtown canning factory is now running to its full capacity, and 10,000 cans a day will probably be the output for the next fifty days. It is said that the company will declare a dividend of 25 per cent. this year.

THE Stanford Interior Journal says: E. B. Caldwell has had strawberries continuously since last spring. He left a quart of them with us yesterday as fine as ever we saw. They are the Lancaster and Big Bob varieties.

JAMES HUNTER, a young fisherman, was shot and killed at Covington recently by Thomas Carleton, a barge tender. Carleton alleged that Hunter had betrayed his daughter and would not marry her.

J. M. CRAYCRAFT, foreman of Deane-field coal mines in Ohio county, was killed by being struck by a car. He was sitting on the edge of the shaft, and the whole back of his head torn off.

MIDDLESBOROUGH has already begun to feel a relaxation of the money stringency, following the big raise of the wind made by the American association on its mortgage of $1,500,000.

THE flood in the Licking seriously damaged the caisson at the mouth of the river, used in the work of widening the stream at that point.

LEE OSBORN, a colored cripple of Hopkinsville, sat down on the railroad track to rest, fell asleep, and was run over by a passenger train.

HOPKINSVILLE is already quarreling over a site for the depot and over the right of way for a railroad that is not yet built.

IMPROVEMENTS in the iron works at Ashland necessitate 500 new houses for the employees, and they will be erected at once.

WINCHESTER is pleased with the operation of its new law prohibiting the sale of cattle on the streets on County court days.

A CHEMICAL company, for the manufacture of patent medicines, is about to be organized at Owensboro.

THE Court of Claims of Hopkins county has appropriated $30,000 for the erection of a new court house.

LEXINGTON saloons must now close at midnight, but they open early enough in the morning.

A TAR well, flowing at rate estimated at 400 barrels a day, has been opened near Glasgow.

TAE cattle disease that alarmed stock owners in Western Kentucky is subsiding.

A NUMBER of Cumberland county families are emigrating to Texas.

HARRISON county is again coquetting with a railroad proposition.

THREE prisoners escaped from the Hancock county jail.

HENDERSON has a fourteen-year-old burglar.

For bilious fevers and malarial disorders, use Ayer's Ague Cure. Its success is guaranteed if taken according to directions.

FOR DYSPEPSIA
Use Brown's Iron Bitters.
Physicians recommend it.
